New requirements concerning the size of your apartment in case of family reunification

The Swedish Migration Agency has lowered its requirements concerning the size of your apartment if you are a close relative in Sweden and members of your family are applying for residence permits.

Step 4:

If you are married or a common law spouse: click the first link

If you are not married and plan to marry or become a common law spouse: click the second link

After clicking the links another page will open

Step 5: If you click either link a page similar will open: read the instructions and click

The screenshot shows the Migrationsverket website. The main heading is "How to apply for a residence permit to live with someone in Sweden with whom you are married, a registered partner or cohabiting". A left-hand navigation menu lists various categories, with "How to apply" expanded to show sub-options like "How to apply at an embassy or consulate-general". The main content area includes a "1 Fill in the application" section with a "Continue to the application" button. A black arrow points from the text above to this button.

After the clicking: your page will scroll down to this

The screenshot shows a list of steps for the application process: "4 Book an appointment at the embassy or consulate-general", "5 Interview", "6 The Swedish Migration Agency processes the application", and "7 Receiving the decision". Below this is a "Technical problems?" section with a link to "Contact our web support". The "Begin application" section contains a radio button selection for "I am presently" (in Sweden or outside Sweden) and a "Begin application" button. A black arrow points from the text above to this button. At the bottom, there is a feedback question: "Was the information on this page helpful to you?" with "Yes" and "No" buttons.
